

Sketch quickly, but still working for accuracy of proportions and shapes as you do. Details are not important for this exercise.

Try to not lift your pencil off the paper so that each sketch is made from one continuous line - as shown.

